The image shows the interior of the Lillestrøm Lobby restaurant. The space is filled with round and rectangular tables, some with yellow upholstered chairs and others with wooden chairs. A large, leafy tree in a planter sits on a long wooden table in the foreground. The background features a curved, red-upholstered booth with several round tables set for dining. The lighting is warm and ambient, with small lamps on the tables. A semi-transparent white box with text is overlaid on the right side of the image.
